

OXLEY

MSF-RB800
W900 x D670 x H800

MSF-RB800-PU-GR	OXLEY PU Leather Green Rectangle Single Sided with Low Back
------------------------	--

MSF-RB800-PU-OR	OXLEY PU Leather Orange Rectangle Single Sided with Low Back
------------------------	---

MSF-RB800-PU-BG	OXLEY PU Leather Beige Rectangle Single Sided with Low Back
------------------------	--

MSF-RB800-PU-BL	OXLEY PU Leather Blue Rectangle Single Sided with Low Back
------------------------	---

MSF-RB800-PU-DB	OXLEY PU Leather Dark Brown Rectangle Single Sided with Low Back
------------------------	---

MSF-RB800-FF	OXLEY Frame and Foam Rectangle Single Sided with Low Back
---------------------	--

John Joseph William Molesworth Oxley (1784 – 25 May 1828) was an explorer and surveyor of Australia in the early period of British colonisation. He served as Surveyor General of New South Wales and is perhaps best known for his two expeditions into the interior of New South Wales and his exploration of the Tweed River and the Brisbane River in what is now the state of Queensland.